Hallelujah

The Springstreeters

Close my eyes
Falling on my knees
The hope that's inside
An overwhelming peace

As time's slowing down
Your soft spoken words
On my heart left a stain
Though no one's around
And everything's broken
Your beauty remains
And I realize the reason You came

Hallelujah
Hallelujah
Hallelujah

Shedding a tear
The taste becomes stale
'Cause this is why I'm here
The scar of a nail

Heaven has the pleasure of having You here
Nothing can measure the love that You share
Angels sing welcome home
Welcome home

And this is what I'll sing for You
And this is what I'll sing for You
Oh
