

Slip Into Your Skin

Patrick Watson

Slip into your skin and spend the night
And get out mine
Walking the streets in dark
Where the lamps are the sunshine
For the trees, oh, for the trees 'Cause everybody needs somebody
To hold them down
Oh, everybody needs somebody
To hold them down When your feet are leaving the ground
Leaving the ground
Leaving the ground
Leaving the ground Be the blanket for my bones
Be a place that I call home
Slipped into your skin and spent the night
'Cause I feel like a different man
I feel it when I'm with you
