

What the Hell Is a Gigawatt?

Four Year Strong

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Today's the day that we start this war
Make up your mind and decide what you are fighting for You still have so much left to learn about
Decisions to make, it's your heart to break If you can't make room for raising the stakes
You'll find yourself exposed to the fallout
It's been a drawn out series of undeniable mistakes
The perfect punch to a perfect line I'm not gonna make it
Tonight's not good for me, it's true
But not for the reasons you might think
'Cause I've got better things to do Have you ever loved so much that you'd kill for it?
I'd kill for this
From the bottom of the barrel to the tip of my tongue
Feeling old but we're still so young
Because we are the ones that you're searching for Causing all the trouble, only looking for more
So we'll carry on with a heart of gold
Feeling young but we're getting older every time I turn around
The perfect place at the perfect time I'm not gonna make it
Tonight's not good for me, it's true
But not for the reasons you might think
'Cause I've got better things to do I'm not gonna make it
Tonight's not good for me, it's true
But not for the reasons you might think
'Cause I've got better things War
(This is an outrage)
Today's the day that we start this war
(This is an outrage)
Make up your mind and decide
(This is an outrage) This is an outrage, I'm so disgusted
(This is an outrage)
Tie God up, we swear it's running out
Watch out outside So listen up if you still feel like I still feel
Then rise up and don't fuck off I'm not gonna make it

Tonight's not good for me, it's true
But not for the reasons you might think
'Cause I've got better things to do
