Heaven's Gonna Happen Now

The Pains of Being Pure at Heart

Justine, you're dying just to hear the sound
And dreaming of another town
'Cause nothing here is going onWrite now, 'cause all your real friends are words
You've never ever been so sure
That what you've got can't be curedAnd now, nothing's gonna turn us down
You can't sit there and look scared
When everything's happening nowCome on, nothing's gonna turn us down
So don't stand there like you don't care
'Cause heaven's gonna happen nowLook down, don't see yourself between the lines
Just tell them that you're doing fine
'Cause I can tell you're doing timeIn a cell that looks just like a family home
Where solitaire is all you know
And there's nowhere that you could goBreak down, or maybe just break the skin
You're writing down everything
'Cause words are still a faithful friendSo now, tell me what you're gonna do
'Cause I can see the fire in you,
And I can see it's burning through

Songwriters
BERMAN, KIP/WANG, PEGGY/FELDMAN, KURT/NAIDUS, ALEXANDER ARTHURPublished by

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/