Once In a While

Louis Armstrong and His Hot Five and Hot Seven

When you close your eyes
Do you like what you see inside your mind?
And do you like to dream about the stars above
Once in a while?
Don?t go to the other side
For nothing at all
And better make it worth your while
I?m gonna break down that wall
Gonna take the fall
'Cause when you close your eyes
Do you like what you see inside your mind?
And do you like to dream about the stars above
Once in a while, once in a while?
Don?t go to the other side
As you might mess up that hair
Just wait you might change your mind
You think that people might care
About your hair anyway?s
When you close your eyes
Do you like what you see inside your mind?
And do you like to dream about the stars above
Once in a while, once in a while?
Don?t go to the other side
Just get down on your knees
And show me what you are made of
I?m begging you please
Just please go away
When you close your eyes
Do you like what you see inside your mind?
And do you like to dream about the stars above
Once in a while?
When you close your eyes
Do you like what you see inside your mind?
And do you like to dream about the stars above
Once in a while?
Don?t go to the other side
For once in a while, once in a while
Don?t go to the other side
For once in a while, once in a while
