You've Got To Save Me Right Now

Erasure

I've been hurt so many times
And I've got battle wounds to show for it
Strength comes from within
And there are many lessons I had to learn

Won't somebody show me
How to break down my defences?
Though I believe in angels
I cry from the very depths of my soul

You got to save me right now, woah
You got to save me right now
You got to save me somehow, woah
You got to save me right now

I had all the love
And my self esteem beaten out
I grew sick and tired
Of apologising for myself

When everything was better
You'd hang on the wrong meaning
When love is so demeaning
Gotta pick myself up from the floor

You got to save me right now, woah
You got to save me right now
You got to save me somehow, woah
You got to save me right now

You got to save me right now, woah
You got to save me right now

Can you save me?
Can you save me now?
Can you save me?
Can you save me now?
You got to save me somehow, woah
You got to save me right now
