

Two Feet Of Topsoil

Brad Paisley

Yesterday I thought that I was low as I could get
I'd hit rock bottom ever since you up and left
But this morning when I saw you with somebody else, well, needless to say
That's when I started sinking even lower
And as far as where I'm at today There's two feet of topsoil
A little bit of bedrock,
Limestone in between
A fossilized dinosaur
A little patch of crude oil
A thousand feet of granite underneath
And then there's me I was kinda hopin' I could dig my way back out
A couple dozen roses, maybe get you back somehow
But the love in your eyes as you talked to him today was plain to see
So I ain't gonna get involved,
But should you change your mind
Well, you know right where I'll be There's two feet of topsoil
A little bit of bedrock,
Limestone in between
A fossilized dinosaur
A little patch of crude oil
A thousand feet of granite underneath
And then there's me There's two feet of topsoil
A little bit of bedrock,
Limestone in between
A fossilized dinosaur
A little patch of crude oil
A thousand feet of granite underneath
And then there's me There's two feet of topsoil
A little bit of bedrock,
Limestone in between
A fossilized dinosaur
A little patch of crude oil
A thousand feet of granite underneath
And then there's me

Songwriters

Paisley, Brad / Arthur, Robert Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>