If Living Is Without You

Bellefire

Timeless like a picture moments trapped in ice
Memories that sparkle in my mind
Colors in the river, reflections make me smile
Ripples of a heart that echoes mine
I've come to know so much of love
I can't forget
And though you're gone there's not a moment
I regret
If living is without you
I will face it and be strong
No one's touched my life like you have
I'm so grateful we were one
If I'd never come to know you then
I'd never feel this pain
But there is nothing that we share
That I would change
Golden layers of fire burning in the sky
Drowning out the shadows with their light
Sometimes it's hard to understand the reasons why
We both believe there is no end, no goodbye
If living is without you
I will face it and be strong
No one's touched my life like you have
I'm so grateful we were one
If I'd never come to know you then
I'd never feel this pain
But there is nothing that we share
That I would change
If living is without you
I will face it and be strong
No one's touched my life like you have
I'm so grateful we were one
If I'd never come to know you then
I'd never feel this pain
But there is nothing that we share
That I would change
