Rockabye Baby

Smart Baby Lullabies

little miss Mary Mack had buttons all down her back she let Geordie loosen them up and now her belly's fat now mary's little lamb follows her wherever she goes no more hanging out at the bar, cause baby ain't old enough (BRIDGE)
so now its Mary and Georgie, sitting in a tree with a b-a-b-y baby i bet they learned a lesson, about early sex and why it shouldn't be (CHORUS)
rockabye baby
said georgie to mary (its your turn)
rockabye baby
said mary to georgie (its your turn)
rock, rockabye rockabye tonight rock, rock, rockabye rockabye tonight
rock, rockabye rockabye tonight rockabye baby tonight its been three years since they finished high school now baby's growing up mary works sellin' hot crossed buns, since georgie's up and gone all thanks to peter's piper, mary can pay the bills she can't get a 9 to 5 cause she ain't go to college so now its mary and baby, sitting in a tree no g-e-org-i-e georgie i bet she learned a lesson about havin' children before you are ready (CHORUS)

i said marys been workin all live long day evey since baby's daddy went away she gave up her sweet little puddin pie now shes got little boy blue on her side screamin' "georgie pordgie let me in" saying "not by the hair of my chiny chin chin" she scribbled down i hate you on his subpoena papers this baby's yours and i need support mary used to be a pretty maid, now shes hustling to get paid georgie promised her the finer things, till baby blue was born now she sits up all alone at night, wipin tear drops from her eyes wishin georgie did her right since baby came alone (CHORUS)

rockabye baby its your turn
rockabye baby its your turn (fades out)...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/