Another Night Alone

Sr-71

Alone again tonight In this empty time The sound in my head The sight leaves me Leaves me blind I'll write a million words I'll sing until it hurts How far could this be Until it's seen? How long will I let this go? I can't stand to spend Another night alone Alone I stare at the empty walls I speak, no one hears I make every excuse And blame my fears How long will I let this go? I can't stand to spend

Another night alone Alone, alone, alone And all these shadows come to rest In my head And I can't see you and I I can't hear the things you said There is a secret place You'll find a bloodstained fence It's there, the future speaks And she spoke to me How long will I let this go? I can't stand to spend Another night, another night alone Alone, alone, alone Not another night alone Alone, another night alone Alone

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/