It's All Over but the Crying

Hank Williams, Jr.

It seems that you've changed
In these past few days
For when I try to kiss you
You just push me awayNow I don't know what's wrong
But I don't see how we can go on
I think your love for me is dying
And it's all over but the cryingI called you on the phone
Just to find out what was wrong
And the thing you said
Made my suspicions realYou said tonight again
You had to stay with this sick friend
But that story I'm not buying
'Cause it's all over but the crying
It's all over but the crying

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/