

This Old Heart

Gin Wigmore

Breathe, the streets without a name
These burning clouds don't always look the same
Midnight moon, you are my thunder
I am the glass in which you wander
Still I keep falling on, babyHeartbreaking love
I am losing myself in you
This heart, heartbreaking love
My head you know I'm holding,
Holding myself for you
And this heart
Ah, this old heart
Ah, this old heart will stay for you
And this old heart
This old heart will stay open for youStay, a thousand passing days
I'll see you break, the jealousy awaits
Wanting play until September
You are all that I remember
Still I keep falling on, babyHeartbreaking love
I am losing myself in you
This old heartbreaking love
My head you know I'm holding,
Holding myself for you
And this heart
Ah, this old heart
Ah, this old heart will stay for youThis old heart
This old heart
This old heart will stay for youThis heart, heartbreaking love
My head you know I'm holding,
Holding myself for you
This heart
This old heart
This old heart will stay for youThis old heart
This old heart
This old heart will stay for youThis old heart
This old heart
This old heart will stay for you
