I Changed My Way

Loretta Lynn

Today the thought of leaving you wandered through my mind
And all the sleeping memories that we made
I've thought about the love we knew that one day upped and died
It wasn't even strong enough to fade
Soon as I am strong enough I pull myself away
Your little love mean long enough and hurt me anyway
Then you come to me and stay and love me one more time I changed my mind
[guitar - steel]
I've been good and true to you but you don't even care
I'd be better off if you just turn and gone
But then I've thought of losin' you is more than I can bear
Yes I am too weak to make it on my own
Soon as I am strong enough...
I changed my mind
