Whisper

Common Children

In this festival of time when I seek but will not find
Would you shine some feelings into my eyes?
Could you climb with healing into my tired mind?
Into my own mindIn this revelry of days when I'm trapped inside my cage
Would you fly some easy freedom inside?
Could you climb with healing into my tired life?
Into my own lifeWhen the silence burns my ears
And I frolic through my fears
When I stain myself in shame
I still whisper out your nameOh, won't you come down
And burn your light through me?
And save me and heal meOh, won't you come down
And burn your light through me?
And save me and heal meWhen the silence burns my ears
And I frolic through my fears
When I stain myself in shame
I still whisper out your name
I still whisper out your nameWon't you burn your light through me?
And heal me and save meI will whisper out your name
