The Bengal Parade

Elf Power

I saw you out last night in the crowd,
I feel pretty lonely tonight.
Would could just fly, I fell through the sky,
I pictured the world passing by.
It's so far away from the homes we used to know,
And the Bengals dance on parade there.
These tigers gone by, I don't know how to fly,
And it simmer with peaceful desire.
Would could stay here,
Spending the years,
Tending our own little fire.
It's so far away from the homes we used to know,
And the Bengals dance on parade there.
[?]
Enormous respect for the beautiful lie,
Seal up the cages, the keys cannot learn.
Put them straight in there and never return.
Beautiful dream in disguise.
If we pretend all the storm in the wind,
We could be here all the time.
It's so far away from the homes we used to know,
And the Bengals dance on parade there,
Yeah the Bengals dance on parade
