

Everytime I Look At You

Glen Gray

I used to think that i was strong i realise now i was wrong cause everytime i see your face my mind becomes an empty space and with you lying next to me feels like i can hardly breathe

i close my eyes
the moment i surrender to you
let love be blind
innocent and tenderly true so lead me through tonite
but please turn out the light cause im lost everytime i look at you and in the morning when you go wake me gently so ill know that loving you was not a dream and whisper softly what it means to be with me then every moment we're apart will be a lifetime to my heart

i close my eyes
the moment i surrender to you
let love be blind
but please turn out the light
lost everytime i look at
