Eclipsed

We love our tragedies when we're broken in our own little ways
We're broken but we fit together just right
You know, I saw the black inside your eyes
I saw they were eclipsed by mine and they looked just rightWhen our lights meet, will you know me then?
And will you want to know it?
It feels like I've known you for so long
When our lights meet, will you want me then?
And will you ever know it?
It seems like you've known me for so longI love your analogies, we're both crazy in our own little ways
We talk about the future and our past lives
I know loved you then, I know I'd love you now
I know I'll love you then, I know I love you nowWhen our lights meet, will you know me then?
And will you want to know it?
It feels like I've known you for so long
When our lights meet, will you want me then?
And will you ever know it?
It seems like you've known me for so long
It seems like I've known you for so longBut you can't have everything you want
When you want it
I will be everything you want
When you want itWait for me, trust for me, fall for me
Even when you don't know you fall for me
Will you fall for it? If it should come around again
But don't wait for me and don't trust in me, don't fall for me
Even when you know you're falling for meWhen our lights meet, will you know me then?
And will you want to know it?
It feels like I've known you for so long
When our lights meet, will you want me then?
And will you ever know it?
It seems like you've known me for so longWhen our hearts meet, will we make it then
Will we even notice that they are eclipsed?
