Running Now

Antiskeptic

faded, faded fast life flashed through in pictures frames and i have loaded and spun the barrel of this gun again you see we forget and all the reasons we believe are caught and crucified on the cross of complexities waiting, listening say goodbye to analogies when a word of love will bridge from you to freei'm in the midst of all the lessons i have learned and none are obvious or rehearsedoh my God i can't believe you've got me running now i'm desperate for youan old friend made it living high with family kids to school, mums at home he'll be home at six for tea i'm with renting tenants old microwave, one couch for three a cause for question now free to air, or pay tv?
