Hardest Part Of Livin's Loving Me

Charley Pride

Yes you're the hardest part of livin's loving me
Must be thousands of good reasons that I may never see
Still you keep that candle burnin' let me live there in your dreams
You're the reasons for tomorrow you're the sunshine morning bringsI've got friends in lots of places and I'm quick to call their names
And I know you've got a lotta friends and you could do the same
I've got answers to that problem solutions they can't see
But you're hardest part of livin's loving me
I've got feelings for the man who's down and it hurts to see his pain
And I know that when you cry at night those tears like falling rain
But it's crying tears of hoping for the things you prayed to be
And you're hardest part of livin's loving me
Yes you're the hardest part...
You're the reasons for tomorrow you're the sunshine morning bring

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/