Affliction

Sonic Syndicate

This is no ordinary demon
I've been down this road before
Driven by the wounds I couldn't hide
I know exactly where it goesSo I guess there's no tomorrow
And I can't remember yesterday
Locked in a time lapse
And it's soul crushing to sayAt the end of my elbow
You'll find one golden rule
A ferocious discharge
You will hit the ground hardI don't know, I don't care
And I don't understand
Why they dignify iniquityI don't know, I don't care
And I don't understand
Why they justify rapacityLeft humanity being long ago
Take a look into my world
So many places where I don't belong
Eradicate what I've becomeA ferocious discharge
You will hit the ground hardI don't know, I don't care
And I don't understand
Why they dignify iniquityI don't know, I don't care
And I don't understand
Why they justify rapacityI don't know, I don't care
And I don't understand
There's an over waiting for you in hell
You'll be reaping what you sow in life
What you sow in life, what you sow in lifeHad to put you in the place
And wipe that smile off your face
You can put a king's clothes on a scarecrow
In the end it's still just a scarecrow
Still just a scarecrowI don't know, I don't care
And I don't understand
Why they dignify iniquityI don't know, I don't care
And I don't understand
Why they justify rapacityI don't know, I don't care
And I don't understand
There's an over waiting for you in hell
You'll be reaping what you sow in life
What you sow in life, what you sow in lifeYou're the affliction
You'll pay what you oweDon't understand

You're the affliction
Why they justify
You'll pay what you oweDon't understand
You're the affliction
Why they dignify
You'll pay what you oweDon't understand
You're the affliction
Why they justify
You'll pay what you oweDon't understand
You're the affliction
Why they dignify
You'll pay what you owe
