

All But One

Grace Potter & The Nocturnals

Ive forgotten the reasons for loving you
And Ive forgotten the love that you gave
All the days on the run, sitting shotgun
All the things that I loved, all but one I know better then to tell you I miss you
And I know how hard it was just to go
But Ive forgotten the fun, it set with the sun
All things that I loved, all but one Theres just one thing Ill hold to forever
Theres just one little glint in your eye
And it will hunt me inside like the devil
No matter how hard I try Ive forgotten the reason for loving you
And Ive forgotten the love that you gave
All the days on the run, sitting shotgun
All the things that I loved, all but one, all but one
