

Life in a Way

One Less Reason

Album: A Lifetime Burning
And tell me about the one who broke your heart
Tell me about when the day was through
Did you feel like you? All the things that you wished you had said
Lingered around inside your head
Until you were dead
Yea No its just been so long
Since I gave my heart away
But I was going to today I was gonna pick up the pieces and put them away
Say goodbye to all my mistakes
Living the life that got in the way
Of all the plans for me that you make
Oh, youve made
Plans youve made Waited around even from before
Wanted it all and I gave you more
Than I could afford I chose to believe you even from the start
I could handle your lies,
You know they werent that hard
The truth tore me apart You said its just been so long
Since you thought of me that way
You wanna start again today
Yea You wanna pick up the pieces and put them in place
They resemble something theyve made
Wanna make sure the lies take off all your disguises
Livin our life in a way I dont think
I dont think
About you
Anymore I dont think
I wont think
About you
Anymore You know its just been so long
Since I let you treat me that way
Im not gonna let you start today Im gonna pick up the pieces and throw them away
Say goodbye to all my mistakes
You know more then me about my self esteem
Start livin my life in a way
That I wont think
No I wont think
About you

Anymore
