

Discovery

Brian McKnight

Moon needs the suns, then the earth exists
Tall trees will grow, all because of mist
Then there comes light
Which is an awesome gift Out of my eyes
Visions of you appear Discovery
The world has yet to see
What you mean to me
Like a treasure unknown
To man I'm so excited
Where do I begin?
Ohh Notice how birds fly so care free
And picture how they can bring Back memories
And then there's the smile
That can make someone's day When my song was incomplete
You filled the empty space Discovery
The world has yet to see
What you mean to me
Like a treasure unknown
To man I'm so excited
Where do I begin?
Ohh So now that I have seen
An angel spread it's wings
Go on, lay me down
I can die now Ever since you came around
There's a new love found
I'm not alone
Someone's at home
Yeah Discovery
The world has yet to see
What you mean to me
Like a treasure unknown
To man I'm so excited
Where do I begin?
Ohh Discovery
The world has yet to see
What you mean to me
Like a treasure unknown
To man I'm so excited

Where do I begin?
Ohh
(Where do I begin?)
Ohh
Where do I begin?
