Never Bloom Again

The Perishers

Lighting struck
Now it's silent and dark
Like to try to light a candle
But for that I'd need a sparkOur luck changed
I don't know why, don't know when
But it changed and now it's hard
Not to dwell on memoriesI know we'll grow
But we'll never bloom again
I'm sure we'll grow
But we'll never bloom againNow it's cold on my side of the bed
Though you're near, you're far away
Partly here, partly goneOur luck changed
I don't know why, don't know when
I wonder where we would end up
If we could start againI know we'll grow
But we'll never bloom again
I'm sure we'll grow
But we'll never bloom againI know we'll grow
But we'll never bloom again
I'm sure we'll grow
But we'll never bloom again
