The Axe Shall Fall

Devildriver

This abomination
Won't see the end of days
Sit throne of lies, torn
By the voice on highDeath was only a dream
Not devastating disaster
The rights of passage
The past that we can't alterFuck you, you
And the horse that you rode in on
Just sit there
And be silent as the graveYou've come out this time
Smelling just like roses
I sit there, watch while I drink my wineThe weight of your sins
And the evil beneath us
Will surely drag you downThe axe shall fall
On the one-winged angel
Breaking the spell
Would you break this fall?
For he, who sins against his kind
The axe shall fallAlright, alrightWith a hollow heart and hollow eyes
I cry from your cross, serpents in disguise
Hearts of distrust is what he's despised
I sit there, watch while I drink my wineThe weight of your sins
And the evil beneath us
Will surely drag you downThe axe shall fall
On the one-winged angel
Breaking the spell
Would you break this fall?
For he, who sins against his kind
The axe shall fall
Alright, alrightThe axe shall fall
On the one-winged angel tonight
Tonight, tonight, tonight
