At Your Will

Vaux

You look awake and I can let go.
But those eyes are blank, and you can be free from yourself.
A room dressed in white, but youl never know.
I stand by your side. And you can be free from yourself.And all it s well that ends well, alright.
As car pass by all night.
And I can see you right, but you can.Stick the tubes all the way in.
To fill you up again.
And Il be there at the end. At your will.You look awake and I can let go.
But those eyes are blank, and you can be free from yourself.
A room dressed in white, but youl never know.
I, stand at your side. And you can
