

Bringing On Back the Good Times

Steve Ellis's Love Affair

Since you went away I've been losing my sleep at night

Never thought there 'd come a day

When you'd be back to make everything right

But how wrong could I be

'Cos now you're here with me

Bringing on back the good times

Taking away the pain.

You're bringing on back the good times

And I'm living on air,

So glad that you're there

Sweeping away the sad times

Making me laugh again

Oh, you're bringing on back the good times

And you started me living now that I'm loving again

I've never been loved by anybody that's quite like you

So when you're telling me of

All the things you want me to do

Now you've made me see

What you mean to me

You're bringing on back the good times

Taking away the pain

You're bringing on back the good times

And I'm living on air

So glad that you're there

Sweeping away the sad times

Making me laugh again

Yes, you're bringing on back the good times

And you started me living now that I'm loving again

You're bringing on back the good times

Taking away the pain

You're bringing on back the good times

And I'm living on air

So glad that you're there

Sweeping away the sad times
Making me laugh again
Oh, you're bringing on back the good times
And you started me living now that I'm loving again

Oh, you're bringing on back the good times
And I'm living on air
So glad that you're there
Sweeping away the sad times
Making me laugh again

You're bringing on back the good times
