

The Leader

Chris de Burgh

I looked to the north, and I turned to the west
For a sign, a light in the sky
Oh the message is clear, the time is near
For a leader to come again These circle of stones on the head of a hill
Tonight is where it will be
In this desolate place, we all stand and wait
For a leader to come again
Yes a leader will come again For it is written
That a leader will be here
And then a vision
(Haa)
Left me blinded by the light
And it started right in front of my eyes
