In

The Muffs

Why love everybody
When you won't be back again
Are you only ever happy
When you're only ever in?And completely arrogantly
Look into the mirror
Making muscles by yourself
And stop when they come nearerIn other words, he wants the girls
To think he has a big one
But if you see the prize of he
You know he really has noneYou wanna say you're doing great
But that would be a lie
But underneath, the little chief
Won't set the world on fireWhy love everybody
When you won't be back again
Are you only ever happy
When you're only ever in?You're only ever in
You're only ever in
You're only ever in
