Immune

Melanie C

If you see me and I look away
Please dont ask me
Theres nothing to say about the way that I feel
Its hard to conceal when its in my eyesIf I tell you that Im doing fine
Please believe me, it may be a lie
But Ive got to move on, Ive got to be strong
Now what else can I do'Cause Ive been wanting, waiting, hoping, praying
Oh, I feel like Im suffocating
Theres nothing left to loseIf all that I have is the sweetest denial
If all I can give is the rest of my life
Then Im over pretending that I can survive without you
Thought I was stronger than love but I guess that nobodys immuneTheres a poison that runs through my veins
When Im sleeping
And just like a secret that I try to keep
I buried too deep like the memories of youBut Im still here wanting, waiting, hoping, praying
Oh, I feel like Im suffocating
Theres nothing left to loseIf all that I have is the sweetest denial
If all I can give is the rest of my life
Then Im over pretending that I can survive without you
Thought I was stronger than love but I guess that nobodys immuneIf all that I have is the sweetest denial
If all I can give is the rest of my life
Then Im over pretending that I can survive without you
Thought I was stronger than love, I guess that nobodys immuneAll that I have is the sweetest denial
If all I can give is the rest of my life
Then Im over pretending that I can survive without you
Thought I was stronger than love but I guess that nobodys immune
