

When Do I Get to Be a Woman

Sarah Johns

When do I just get to be a woman?
Sip some wine and do my nails
Bubble bath till the candles melt
All week long and everything else
When do I just get to be a woman?
Break from all this reality
That's what every tired girl needs
When do I just get to be a woman?
I make our bed, his lunch
I put my make up on while I run by the daycare
I kiss her cheek then I'm gone
Punch a clock then I'm home to more work waitin' there
I fold 'em up, I'm never through
And I don't mind but if this job's on weekends too
When do I just get to be a woman?
Shop for shoes and real tight jeans
Pamper myself just like a queen
When do I just get to be a woman?
God knows I'm thankful, I don't need no one
But there's just some days when I could use a break
A little Sarah time, oh
So when do I just get to be a woman?
A long neck line and a real short dress
Make him stare like we just met
Take him home and then take his breath
When do I just get to be a woman?
Break from all this reality
Do you girls know what I mean?
When do I just get to be a woman, a woman?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>