Elizabeth

Ghost

Underneath the monlight of old hungerian skies buried in the blood-drenched earth
These barren lands of ice
She was an evil woman with an evil old soul
Piercing eyes emotionless
a heart so black and coldElizabeth, in the castle where was my soul
Forever young, Elizabeth Bathory in the castle of your death
You're still alive, ElizabethHer pact with Satan
Her dispisal of mankind
Her acts of cruelty and her lust for blood Makes her one of usOur ancient countess was refused her desires will
To bathe in pure fresh blood
She'd peasant virgins killedElizabeth, in the castle where was my soul
Forever young, Elizabeth Bathory in the castle of your death
You're still alive, ElizabethElizabeth, in the castle where was my soul
Forever young, Elizabeth Bathory in the castle of your death
You're still alive, Elizabeth
