

Starting over Again

Sheryn Regis

And when I hold you in my arms I promise you
You're gonna feel a love that's beautiful and new
 This time I'll love you even better
 Than I ever did before
And you'll be in my heart forevermoreWe were just too young to know
 We fell in love and let it go
 So easy to say the words goodbye
 So hard to let the feelings die
 I know how much I need you now
 The time is turning back somehow
 As soon as our hearts and souls unite
I know for sure we'll get the feeling rightCHORUS
 And now we're starting over again
 It's not the easiest thing to do
 I'm feeling inside again
 'Cause everytime I look at you
 I know we're starting over again
 This time we'll love all the pain away
 Welcome home my lover and friend
We are starting over, over againIf we never lived alone
 Then we might have never known
 All the time we spent apart
All we did was break each other's hearts (Instrumental)And when I hold you in my arms I promise you
 You're gonna feel a love that's beautiful and new
 This time I'll love you even better
 Than I ever did before
And you'll be in my heart forevermoreCHORUS
 END-CHORUS
 And now we're starting over again
 This time we'll chase all the rain away
 Welcome home my lover and friend
 We are starting over, over again
 We are starting over, over again
