

Speak To Me

Trey Anastasio

And in the distance could be heard
What might've been a whispered word
    I thought I heard a sigh or two
And instantly I thought of youJust beyond and further still
    The shadow of a larger hill
    Moves between me and my view
And interrupts my thought of youThen I see a Robin fly
    Across my view and into the sky
    I thought perhaps he somehow knew
Why he appeared instead of youSilent owl just floated by
    The moon black in the summer sky
    And I'm still here beneath this tree
    Wondering when you'll speak to me
