Conversational

Modern Skirts

Everyday I wake to see the same old face is conversational
Every push and pull and every broken rule is conversational Cause lately Ive been likely to be somebody like me
Someone whos really not me and likable alone
Cause this is how you spray on a face made out of rayon and love them 'til theyre gone
Every drop of blood and every famine and flood is conversational Everything I break and everything I take is conversational
I propose we stay up til we're filthy and keep our heads above the water
We might even dream of being wealthy and have a son or a daughter
Every reel to reel and everything we steal is conversational
Every song that plays and everything we say is conversational

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/