Would You Love Me Any Less

Charlie Simpson

Verse 1:
We kept our heads down and moved through the water way,
We lay still as the winter had worn off,
There was cold winds, bring storms together.
There were black clouds over rainbows,
We could see the messages etched on the fence post,
From the summer nights when we slept outside under starlight.Chorus:
Would you love me any less?
If my eyes became weak,
If I could no longer hear you speak.
Would you love me any less?
You were born with an honest heart,
And it carried me from the start.Verse 2:
We kept our skin warm as we walked on the old rail tracks,
The sun beamed as it hit down on our backs,
There was nothing that could ever change us.
The were picture frames on the windowsill,
With an image of us looking so still,
Guess I thought that we'd be here forever.Chorus:
Would you love me any less?
If my lungs became weak,
If I lost the strength to eat.
Would you love me any less?
You were born with an honest heart,
And it carried me from the start.Bridge:
Oh my, oh my, would you walk on holy water?
Oh my, oh my, could you walk through bricks and water?Chorus: (X2)
Would you love me any less?
If my eyes became weak,
If I could no longer hear you speak.
Would you love me any less?
You were born with an honest heart,
And it carried me from the start.
