

A Soul That's Been Abused

Hubert Sumlin

You can treat me dirty
You can treat me cruel
It doesn't really matter
I was still your loving fool Cause baby, oh baby, you really didn't know what you were doing
I know you didn't mean to hurt me, baby
I'm only sorry to see ever good loving ruin Time heals all the wounds
That's what the people say
But for all your wrong doings
Someday you'll have to pay
Cause baby, oh baby
I know you work in a field
But still after all we've been through You still stand a queue from a soul that's been abused I'll forgive you, baby
I'll forgive you but not forget
Sometimes I get angry at myself
I wish we had never met You didn't understand Then let me feel like a man
So sorry we both must lose
That's why you found me somewhere in this world singing this blues You can treat me dirty
You can treat me cruel
It doesn't really matter
I was still your loving fool Cause baby, oh baby, you really
didn't know what you were doing
I know you didn't mean to hurt me, baby
I'm only sorry to see ever good loving ruin Said I'm sorry, oh Lord, said I'm sorry
It's a sad day, when through lovings
It's a sad day, when hatred wins
Said I'm sorry, oh Lord, I'm sorry
Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>