

You Make Me Sick

Egypt Central

I used to think this was perfect
And wish that it was never ending
But those days are gone forever
It's something I'm not missing
There's a force there's a voice, in my head
Telling me to think about the times
That you were cruel and mean
I don't care if you walk away
I'm here to stay and you need to hear
You make me sick
But I love what we're doing here
You make me sick
And I can't be the only one
I have to take advantage
Before the moment passes by
It's so hard to manage
The ups and downs of your life
Someone help, someone speak before
I start to scream out
Anything to break the silence
You're holding me back confined by doubt
'Cause I need you
'Cause I need you here with me
When it falls through
And I'm down upon my knees
There's a force, there's a voice
In my head telling me
To think about everything
Last time I believed, now I realize
