the assembly plant is smothering me i'm a predefined commoditythe marauder mill needs an unpolluted grist i can feel the strain around my wristwe're in human farms and the scythe is cutting carefully reaping the radical we're in human farms and the blight is striking randomly it's reforming me[chorus:]
when the sedition's growing - when you force me to the front when you say we are the product, i'm the vanguard of the hunt when the sedition's growing - when you force me to the front when you say we are the product, i'm the vanguard of the huntthe automation-swell has ever-tarnished the crop the ravenous reform will never stopthe fattening proceeds of trade activity and we live life like a dead foundrywe're in human farms and the scythe is cutting carefully reaping the radical
it's reforming mean' shock it... i got the diligence to motivate - i got the mind-span to reallocate the most ferocious freedom known to me - is better than the safest slavery[chorus]ah rake the land - the diagram is hyperbole ah cut the stand - the reaper sure is on a rolean' shock it...
the most ferocious freedom known to me - is better than the safest slavery
