American Witch

Rob Zombie

This is a journey meant for your anxiety
This is a journey meant for your anxiety
This is a journey meant for your anxiety
This is a journey meant for your anxiety
Body of a monkey and the feet of a cock
Dragged from her home on the killing rock
Black dog dying on the weather vain
The Devil's in a cat and the baby's brain
The end, the end of the American
The end, the end of the American
The end, the end of the American
The end, the end of the American Witch
Alone on the hill and ready to die
Cancer of darkness blacken eye
The mark of the wolf and the sign of the calf
Angels bleed down above the raft
We all pray for, 20 innocents
We all bow down, 20 innocents
We all hang high, 20 innocents
We all accused, 20 innocents
The end, the end of the American
The end, the end of the American
The end, the end of the American
The end, the end of the American Witch
Do you want to know where their dreams come from?
Some showed the faith and some showed none
Do you want to know where their dreams come from?
Some showed the faith and some showed none
We all pray for, 20 innocents
We all bow down, 20 innocents
We all hang high, 20 innocents
We all accused, 20 innocents
The end, the end of the American
The end, the end of the American
The end, the end of the American
The end, the end of the American Witch
Do you want to know where their dreams come from?
Some showed the faith and some showed none
Do you want to know where their dreams come from?

The end, the end of the American Witch

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/