

Into Your Hands

Diamond Rio

You know me, Lord
Better than I know myself
You let me fall
And You knew it was all for the best
You picked me up
Somehow I landed on higher ground
Kicking and screaming
And fighting you, I was so proud
Time and again
I've been hanging on tight
Losing my grip on life
I thought was mine
Into your hands I'm gonna let it all go
A part of this man is longing for you
"Cause You know what I need
Where I stand, what I'll be, who I am
I give it all into Your hands
I used to pray but You know
That I'd never listen
Always expecting that
I'd get my way in the end
All of this time
You were there patiently waiting
Loving me faithfully
Laying Your grace over me
Lord, You're all
I could possibly need
I know that You're living in me
Setting me free
Into your hands I'm gonna let it all go
A part of this man is longing for You
'Cause You know what I feel
Where I stand, where I'll be, who I am
I give it all into Your hands
I will follow
Where You lead me
Lead me where You will
For all that I am is longing for You
'Cause you know what I need

Where I stand , when I'm strong, when I'm weak
All my hopes all my dreams
I give it all into Your hands, into Your hands
