The Middle Class

You must never forget the essence of your spark
All of that which defies you is the essence of your blood
We're the Factory that's been removed
We serve the machine house that broke
We're the Factory that's been removed
We serve the machine house that broke
Look into my eyes and tell me what you see
Someone feel essence real
What you wish to be
You must never forget tomorrow comes before must
But in the seeds of the system the handicapped slower than rust
We're the Factory that's been removed

We serve the machine house that broke
We're the Factory that's been removed
We serve the machine house that broke
Look into my eyes and tell me what you see
Someone feel, essence real
What you wish to be
Cry and see, cry and see
Open your eyes
(Open your eyes, open your eyes)
Open your eyes
(Open your eyes, open your eyes)
Open your eyes, open your eyes
