

Kelly

Andrea Faustini

Taken for granted, trying to hide your misery.
Left empty handed, failed by your own family.
Now you're speaking with your actions, been too long misunderstood.
Feel you slipping out of our hands
If there's one final chance, do everything we damn could.
Oh, Kelly come home, since you been gone, we been running on breakdown.
Oh, we got it all wrong
Left you too long, and we wanna say sorry now.
Sweet times, gone dry
Lord knows we gotta get you back somehow.
Before we all fall down.
Long were the hours, when we used to disagree.
Sweet turned to sour, we criticised too easily.
Yes I was mistaken, it never should've got this far.
A lover that you wanted to keep
But we told you to leave.
You're just following your heart.
Oh, Kelly come home, since you been gone, we been running on breakdown.
Oh, we got it all wrong
Left you too long, and we wanna say sorry now.
Sweet times, gone dry
Lord knows we gotta get you back somehow.
Before we all fall down.
Before we all fall down now, It's breaking my soul you're too far out of reach
Just wanna shout it out and call your name,
But you ain't hearing me, I'm getting strung out
Trying a live life, So solitary...no, no, no
Oh, Kelly come home, since you been gone, we been running on breakdown.
Oh, we got it all wrong
Left you too long, and we wanna say sorry now.
Sweet times, gone dry
Lord knows we gotta get you back somehow.
Before we all fall down.
