Axed Away

Such Gold

I took a trip up north to see what I could find
The wolves are out
Skies change from day to night much more quickly than real life
I couldn't help but run it from the top
Retrace my footsteps anything to get me where I was
The rest is axed away, can't say much
The magic touch we all want to have
Well here it is
Please just leave me to isolate until I can't help myself anymore
The blood drips your sword
Well it's manifested into a dragon of sorts
The rest is axed away, can't say much
The magic touch we all want to have
You're losing it
Skies change from day to night
Seems more real than life
Running, jumping, creeping in
Felt my stomach rumbling
Where have I been? What have I done?
When the sun set will set will the battle won?
