You Want History

Kaiser Chiefs

Yesterday you lay awake on your bed
And worked out you'd done everything that you said
That you'd do before you got to this age
The lord of the bored and a slave to the beigeIt's a mystery
It's a mystery
You want some history
It's a mysterySo last night you got up and out of this room
The ceiling is peeling and covered in gloom
But Jaguar Shoes is the best you can stay
Procession, a lesson to what not to wearIt's a mystery
It's a mystery
You want history
It's a mysteryToday as you shake off the drunken debris
All that is left is the vague memory
Down in the grout of a night on the tiles
It's hard to remember but totally worthwhileIt's a mystery
It's a mystery
You want some history
It's a mysteryIt's a waste of money you have to admit
If it's a waste of money you have to have it
It's a waste of brains but hard to resist
If you wanted mystery you've blown itIt's a waste of money you have to admit
If it's a waste of money you have to have it
It's a waste of brain cells hard to resist
If you wanted history you missed itIf the girls start moving the boys will start moving
If the girls start moving the boys will join in
If the girls start moving the boys will start moving
If the girls start moving the boys will join inIf the girls start moving the boys will start moving
If the girls start moving the boys will join in
If the girls start moving the boys will start moving
If the girls start moving the boys will join in

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/