

She Waits

Louden Swain

Have faith, promises were made
You just take care and behave
You left and now you are saved
The path, it walks you away Meanwhile the house is empty
The floors lay naked and weary
The walls, barely hanging on, carry on
She waits for you Last night you left like a bird
Fly away and never be heard
The wind is cold enough, sure,
But man, you gave her your word Meanwhile the house is empty
The floors lay naked and weary
The walls, barely hanging on, carry on
She waits for you She can't hear anything you're saying
She can't believe what is true
It doesn't make sense what they're saying
She can't see anyone but you Little girl, hold on and wait
It's not fair, but fairness is overrated
Wait and you will be saved
The path, it walks him this way Meanwhile the house is empty
The floors lay naked and weary
The walls, barely hanging on, carry on
She waits for you She waits for you
She waits
