The Perfect Storm

Pretty Little Liars

She's just like a storm
She's running on the waves, washing up on the shore
She's coming out of thin air (she's coming out of thin air)
She blew in like the wind
Became more than just a friend
And now I just can't wait to see her face again
That girl so beautiful, got a body I can't forget
She got style, she got class
And her smile's like the sunset
I can see the lighting , I can hear the thunder
I can feel her heartbeat, but I can't find her
I can feel the rain all over my face
Like a hurricane, she's taking me away....
She's just like a storm
She's running on the waves, washing up on the shore
She's coming out of thin air (thin air)
She's coming out of thin air (thin air)
Came out of nowhere
I was not prepared
Almost time to evacuate, I feel it getting near
The sky is getting dark, and now I'm getting scared
She got style, she got class

The girl is a perfect storm...
I can see the lighting, I can hear the thunder
I can feel her heartbeat, but I can't find her
I can feel the rain all over my face
Like a hurricane, she's taking me away...
She's just like a storm
She's running on the waves, washing up on the shore
She's coming out of thin air (thin air)
She's coming out of thin air (thin air)
She's just like a storm
She's running on the waves, washing up on the shore
She's coming out of thin air (thin air)
She's coming out of thin air (thin air)
She's just like a storm
She's running on the waves, washing up on the shore
She's coming out of thin air (thin air)

She's coming out of thin air (thin air)
She's just like a storm
She's running on the waves, washing up on the shore
She's coming out of thin air (thin air)
She's coming out of thin air (thin air)
