

So Guilty

Hit the Lights

Can you feel the lights go down
As the world falls asleep
You look at me with accusing eyes
Like I'm trying not to leave When there's no one else around
And it's only you and me
When there's no one else around
And it's only you and me Who will be the first to move
Who will be the first to lead
For too long I've been holding on
Like a flame that's flickering When there's no one else around
And it's only you and me
When there's no one else around
And it's only you and me And the sun awaits to take
You further from my arms and I will break
When the sun awaits to take
You further from my arms then I will break And the sun awaits to take
You further from my arms and I will break
When the sun awaits to take
You further from my arms then I will break Am guilty
So guilty
Am guilty
So guilty
