

Avarice

Ignominious Incarceration

This is the tale mankind's bitter struggle
To survive in this savage world
A tale twisted with insatiable lust and betrayal

A slave no longer
Gone is my Hunger
Outcast no longer

This is the tale mankind's endless struggle
To survive in this savage world
To quench the lust of a thousand hungry human souls
Fulfilling our natural desires

A craving that no one can control
It will eventually swallow us all

My eyes are slowly turning red
With a false sense of hope in my head

Greed will burn a hole in their hearts
They will never have enough

This is a tale of a bitter struggle
To survive in this savage world

We all have needs that must fulfilled
But the greed of mankind is relentless
Excess indulgence fed by its own success

The end of the race lies within our hands
To escape the avarice of man

This is the tale of mankind's endless struggle
This is the world we have created
Now we must save ourselves from ourselves
This is the world we have created.
