Changed By You

Mike Kim

Please wait while I slowly untie my tongue tonight
I pray by some feeble attempt my words would tell you
What my heart has to say
'Cause you've always been right beside me for so many days
How could I be without you now
'Cause I am changed by you
The more I get to know you, the more I want you close to me
And I'll take care of you
Please just say you love me, forever be whatever you need
And so if you're supposed to get what you deserve in life
And you came just in the nick of time, God's grace has overtaken me
My love needless to say I am blessed by you
'Cause you are the one
You are the one that I've been waiting for, I've been waiting for
And I am changed by you
The more I get to know you, the more I want you close to me
And I'll take care of you
Please just say you love me, forever be whatever you need
You knock my fears away and reach inside me with your eyes
And light a burning fire and I cannot stop staring
And I am changed by you
The more I get to know you, the more I want you close to me
And I'll take care of you
Please just say you love me, forever be whatever you need
